Capital for Humanity: Tokenization and the Next Financing Pathway for Mining

Tuesday, 29 September, 12:25 PM, Bartolin: Stage 1

Monty C. M. Metzger is a serial entrepreneur and investor who has spent nearly three decades building companies at the frontier of technology and finance. He is Chairman of Metzger Capital, his family office, which anchors his activity across private equity, digital assets, real assets, and technology ventures. He founded LCX, the Liberty Crypto Exchange, in 2018, a pioneer of regulated digital assets in Europe and a World Economic Forum New Champion, and he founded Toto Finance, which brings the full commodity spectrum on-chain for the world's mining and resource companies.

Metzger founded his first internet company in 1998 and co-founded a global technology research firm with offices in Munich, New York, Tokyo, and Beijing, which he exited in 2008. As General Partner of Digital Leaders Ventures he backed early-stage technology companies through multiple exits, an IPO, and an acquisition by Twitter, and he was an early investor in Bitcoin. He studied business administration in Germany and Switzerland and completed executive education at Harvard Business School. Newsweek has ranked him among the most important people in fintech.
